

THE GREYHOUND

PUBLISHED BI-WEEKLY BY THE STUDENTS OF LOYOLA COLLEGE

Vol. VI

MONDAY, JANUARY 9, 1933

No. 6

FR. O'HARA BEGINS REORGANIZATION OF DRAMATIC SOCIETY

OPENING PLAY CAST CHOSEN

"Merton Of The Movies" To Be Initial Production

Due to the interest and efforts of Fr. O'Hara, the Loyola Dramatic Society has been reorganized. The play selected by the group for their initial production is the popular comedy, "Merton of the Movies", by George S. Kaufman and Marc Connelly.

Interest Shown

When the call for candidates was made public, Mr. Houff, the manager of the company, was besieged by students anxious to don the sock and buskin. With such a display of interest it is highly probable that Loyola will once again return to her high position in the ranks of amateur theatricals in this city. Since 1924 when the old Dramatic Society was disbanded there has been no Thespian work by a group of Loyola students.

Cast Chosen

The job of choosing the actors from such a large number of candidates was a difficult one, but everyone was given a just trial and the final selection has been made. Mr. Russell Rozea has the con-

(Continued on Page 6, Col. 5)

Pocket Billiards Tournament Crowns Charles Askew Champ

Tourney Matches Attract Cue Talent Of School R. Hanlon Runner-Up

Displaying a flashy stroke that would not be denied, Charles Askew defeated Rollins Hanlon in the finals of the pool tournament by a score of 100 points to 66. His victory entitled him to the school championship as well as first prize of a two-and-one-half dollar gold piece. Both the first prize and a second prize of one dollar were awarded to winner and runner-up respectively, by Father Risacher, sponsor of the tournament.

Close Contest

First round matches of twenty five points each resulted for the most part in one sided scores, and this order prevailed throughout the entire tournament. One notable exception was the

(Continued on Page 3, Col. 2)

French Nationalism Discussed At History Academy Lecture

H. Anthony Mueller Reviews Nationalist Tendencies Of Napoleon Third

Mr. H. Anthony Mueller addressed the members of the History Academy to-day on a subject that is of interest in the world today, namely, "Napoleon III and French Nationalism." An open forum discussion followed the talk and the lecturer answered all difficulties presented to him.

In a thorough, well-written paper that completely treated the subject, the lecturer reviewed the history of France from 1848 to 1870 and stated that it may well be called the history of one man and that man was Napoleon III. The rule of Napoleon, both as president and later as emperor of France, was based on a perpetual appeal to French patriotism and a nationalistic reverence for French traditions.

According to Mr. Mueller, Napoleon launched himself and France into a campaign of both economic and military nationalism, which insured his place as Emperor. In his Bordeaux speech, Napoleon is the true nationalist,

(Continued on Page 3, Col. 1)

REV. F. M. GILLIS SPEAKS AT FIRST FRIDAY DEVOTIONS

EXPLAINS THE EPIPHANY

The Rev. F. M. Gillis, Professor of Ethics delivered the sermon to the student body at the Sacred Heart Devotions held on the First Friday, January 6.

Speaks on Magi

The subject of Father Gillis' talk was the Epiphany and the Worship of the Magi. "The Church honors these men," said Father Gillis, "because of their faith and their gifts to Christ, but most of all because they sacrificed their human nature and their intellect."

Continuing, Father Gillis told how the very nature of these men cried out to them that a king and a redeemer is not found in poverty and want. But their faith was firm and they believed although they could not understand.

Feast Important

This feast is of especial significance to us, for it foreshadows the acceptance of the Gentiles into the fold of the True Shepherd. In their ador-

(Continued on Page 6, Col. 3)

(Baltimore Sun)
T. BARTON HARRINGTON, '21

T. B. HARRINGTON NEW HOUSE SPEAKER

LOYOLA ALUMNUS 1921

Maryland General Assembly Makes Choice With No Opposition

Mr. T. Barton Harrington, well-known Baltimore lawyer a Loyola alumnus of 1921 and Vice-president of the Alumni Association, was chosen Speaker of the Maryland House of Delegates by the Democratic caucus at the 1933 organization of the Maryland General Assembly on January 3.

Selection Unopposed

Some doubt in connection with the selection of the Speaker delayed the beginning of the meeting of the House Democrats for some time, but Mr. Harrington was finally chosen without a word of opposition from the floor.

Sweeping Victory

Mr. Harrington received the votes of all those who took

(Continued on Page 6, Col. 4)

Ping-pong Tables Bring Zest To Recreation Room

The latest development in the expansion of the new recreation room in the Science Building is the addition of five new ping-pong tables. These have been placed in the room adjoining the present recreation room. Their construction rounds out the sphere of indoor sports very effectively.

The tables are of regulation size, specially built for this purpose, and equipped with standard accessories. Together with pocket billiards

(Continued on Page 3, Col. 5)

Loyola Debaters Meet Fordham, Contest Scheduled For Feb. 17

Rozea and Tiernan Represent Loyola in Green & Gray's First Debate of Year

The Loyola College debating team will journey to New York to meet the team of Fordham in a public debate on the evening of February 17. The question is, "Resolved: That the several states should legislate for compulsory unemployment insurance."

Loyola will defend the negative. This question of unemployment is of timely importance and should prove very interesting. It was suggested by Mr. Henneberry and he also chose the negative.

This is the first intercollegiate debate in which Loyola has engaged in two years. Not much interest was shown in debating last year except for the Prize Debate. Due to the efforts of Mr. T. E. Henneberry, Moderator of the Belarmine Debating Society, interest has been revived.

Tryouts for this debate were held to which a dozen or more made a bid for a place on the team. Of this number, Messrs. Rosea and Tiernan, both of the Senior Class, were

(Continued on Page 6, Col. 1)

DATE DECIDED FOR ELECTION OF YEAR'S SODALITY OFFICERS

SANCTUARY HEADS CHOSEN

The date for the election of officers of the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin has been settled, and is to take place on Wednesday, January 17.

Election Deferred

The deferment until this time has been caused by the somewhat constant fluctuation of the membership, preventing the definite calculation of the actual number of active Sodalists. However, as those who have not attended a sufficient number of meetings up to the date of elections are to be dropped from the roll call, the membership will be definite.

Following the custom of previous years, which allows the assistant Prefect of one year to preside during the meetings of the subsequent term until a prefect has been elected, Mr. Octenasek, of Senior Year, has been acting in this capacity.

Classes Represented

The four officers are to be chosen in such a manner that

(Continued on Page 6, Col. 2)

DR. J. AYD SUCCUMBS TO YEAR'S ILLNESS; WELL KNOWN HERE

FATHER OF LOYOLA TEACHER

Students and Faculty Mourn Passing Of Local Druggist

The father of Rev. Joseph J. Ayd, ex '03, Professor of Sociology at Evergreen and Chaplain of the Maryland Penitentiary, Dr. John Ayd, who for more than half a century was a prominent and honored member of Northeast Baltimore, died Tuesday, January 4th, at the home of his only daughter, after a prolonged illness of nearly a year.

Becomes Pharmacist

After his graduation from St. James parochial school, Dr. Ayd turned his attention towards becoming a carpenter. Happily, the influence of a Redemptorist priest of St. James Church, swerved his mind to where his true talents lay, resulting in his matriculation at the Maryland School of Pharmacy, from which he was graduated in 1886.

Studies Medicine

By 1889 he had acquired sufficient experience and capital to open his own pharmacy. He soon was able to employ a clerk, thus making it possible to devote his talents towards the pursuit of medicine

(Continued on Page 3, Col. 3)

Sophomore Debating Society Questions League Of Nations

Affirmative Attempts Shift Of Proof To Negative And Loses Decision

Members of the Sophomore debating class held a debate on the question, "Resolved: That the U. S. Should Become an Active Voting Member of the League of Nations," on Thursday, January 5. The Affirmative was upheld by Messrs. Tanneyhill and Biggs, and the Negative by Messrs. Botta and Colvin. The critic was Mr. Robert Beltz.

In its arguments, the Affirmative endeavored to shift the burden of the proof to the Negative. The action was too evident however, and the illegitimacy of the Affirmative's act was the cause of the audience turning against them in the final vote. Their argument was briefly this, "The League may not attain its purposed end, yet why not join it?"

The Negative condemned

(Continued on Page 6, Col. 1)

THE GREYHOUND

LOYOLA COLLEGE

Vol. VI Baltimore, Maryland No. 6

Editor-in-Chief
C. Rollins Hanlon, '34Managing Editor
Roger E. Lewis, '35Circulation Manager
J. Leo Risacher, '34Sports Editor
James M. Shea, '35Advertising Manager
Irving J. McCarthy, '36Associate Editors
Gerald Galvin, '34 Arthur V. Millholland, '34
Gregory Kane, '35DEPARTMENTS
George I. Waidner, '34 Charles E. Dolan, '34
Joseph W. Feeney, '35News Staff
William E. White, '36 Chester Kransniewski, '36
Raymond Cunningham, '35Sports Staff
William Kammer, '35 Murray Deming, '36

Published Bi-Weekly

Subscription $2.00

A Catholic Leader

It is our pleasant privilege at this time to extend our congratulations to Mr. T. Barton Harrington, well-known Baltimore lawyer, Loyola graduate of the Class of '21 and Vice-President of the Alumni Association, on his selection as the Speaker of the Maryland House of Delegates.

This position is the third highest active office in the State, and under certain conditions it is not difficult to visualize a step upward into the governorship. Should Governor Ritchie be given a position in the new Cabinet, the President of the Senate is next in line. But as the present president, Senator Mitchell, is well up in years, the choice of Mr. Harrington to fill the governor's chair becomes a strong possibility.

Mr. Harrington is a man of integrity and Catholic principle, and his selection as Speaker brings home points that we might take note of. Namely, that a college education is a man's greatest asset, assuring his swift success in any chosen activity. Mr. Harrington's first political venture was only two years ago. It shows that men of honesty and principle are in demand and can succeed in politics as long as they are capable. It shows, moreover, that a man's religious belief is no stumbling-block to a public career. If he upholds and defends his principles of faith, he will be respected, not scorned. Mr. Harrington is an active, not a passive Catholic and is interested in the work of Catholic Action. He is a member of the Loyola Philomath, or Catholic Action Club.

And so, in these times, when the call for Catholic leadership in public life seems to be falling on deaf ears, Mr. Harrington stands forth as a shining example of the Catholic, college trained leader. It is our fervent hope, that, inspired by such example, every Loyola graduating class will give many more such leaders to a groping civilization.

New Recreation Room

For a considerable period Loyola has felt the need of a place for organized recreation. The present cafeteria had been styled a "recreation room", but it must be confessed that it scarcely justified the appellation. Perhaps the most prevalent form of recreation consisted in tossing apple cores, wrapping paper, and cigarettes in the general direction of waste receptacles. Although this practice gained almost universal student support, none of the missiles ever seemed to land in the receptacles, which peccadillo left unfavorable impressions upon both floor and faculty. Interest in pocket billiards was sporadically in evidence, but had little effect in broadening the circles of student friendship.

But at last some action was taken in this matter. The first step was the removal of the pocket billiard table from the cafeteria, and its transposition to new and more fitting quarters in the basement of the Science Building. Innovations in the form of ping-pong and checker sets were added, and both these sports will gain more and more popularity in the near future. Though the Library Building lost nothing appreciable by the change, the Science Building benefited remarkably. The chief benefit lies in the active interest and fellowship engendered by the new recreation room.

For when we enter its portals we experience a sense of freedom, foreign to anything produced by the old "cafeteria." A jovial and carefree spirit seems to permeate the air, and in this spirit we forget, for a time at least, our exams, our "flunks", and all other scholastic cares. This then, is truly a recreation room, a place to relax and forget, to enjoy a few moments snatched from a busy day.

To those who find fault with the new arrangement as a distraction from serious work, we merely recall the thought of Horace's "Golden Mean," so aptly paraphrased in modern times: "All work and no play . . ."

Campus Clippings

G. I. W.

The Return to Classes—(A Collegiate Tragedy).

The Class—Awwwwww. Awwwwww. Oh, Ummm ummm oh snore snore.

Prof.—Gentlemen! Will you all please stop yawning. You act as if this were New Year's morning. Did any of you ever sleep, or weren't you even able to creep into your beds? Now come. Pay just a little attention or else. . .

The Sleepers—Awwwwww, Awwwwww, Oh, Ummmm, Ummmm, Oh, Snore, Snore.

* * *

Theme songs for the week.

Bossert (Sunday night) "Can't we ever be alone?"

Tiernan (Monday) "Here it is Monday, and I still got a dollar."

Hooper (Tuesday) "A h, But I've learned."

Kemp (Wednesday) "Brother, can you spare a dime?"

The Student Body (Thursday) "How long will it last?"

The Faculty (Friday) "So at last it's come to this."

* * *

As they would paraphrase an old saying;

In Biology—A bird in the hand is worth two in formaldehyde.

In drama—A bird from a box is worse than two from the balcony.

In Philosophy — Birdness, taken to unity once, and firmly grasped, exceeds the value of birdness taken to unity twice, provided that the latter resides in an herbaceous plant, in its natural and unbridled state of original freedom; we grant.

* * *

We take this opportunity to welcome the new department writers, and to wish good speed to the outgoing members of the staff. Even though this has been expressed officially and editorially, we think that a lot has not been said. To the outgoing members we can only say that they were fine examples of scoundrels nincompoops, and practical jokers. As we look back now, it is hard to realize how even a single issue of the "Hound" ever saw the light of day. They made the day hideous with their so called singing; they made poor Elia writhe in his grave at their atrocious puns; who was it that put glue in our pipes? Who was it that was always borrowing cigarettes? Who was it that drove moderators crazy, and who ruined all the typewriters? Who was it that answered our telephone calls, and who gave out such glib information? It was the members of '33, who have so rudely left us. They certainly were terrible, but we wish we had them back. Ave, atque vale.

Evergreen Reflections

C. E. D.

MONDAY MORNING DAY DREAMS

9.10, Universal Ideas,—Universal Scepticism,—Universal Methodic Doubt,—Universal Joints,—and so on, and so on,—?

9.15, Waidner to the right of me, Cleary to the left, Skelton in back of me, On to the valley of—snores heard from the various sectors of the room.—A thick fog is rolling in from the harbor. It seems to come right through the window panes.—Yes sure enough, it looks like London all right, Enigmatic London throbbing with the beat of a million pounding wheels.—London, the Rome of the modern world drawing with invisible strands men and women from the four corners of the world, for business, for pleasure, for anything and everything that mortal life can offer,—London the greatest city in the world. The cradle for the genius of Shakespeare, Addison, Lamb, Milton, Johnson. The magic name of that persecutor and protector of religion, art, science, letters, glory, shame, civilization. The haven of heroes, cowards, conquerors and saints. Well after all that, it must be London.—The fog is lifting from Whitehall—a band playing, the colorful horse guards sit their ebony chargers,—not so far away, Westminster Abbey one of the most historic and most beautiful churches in London. The burial place of poets and kings. Here we find the tombs of Edward the Confessor, the Unknown Soldier and others. The Poets' corner. The Coronation Chair with its historic stone.—Up Whitehall, past the Cenotaph.—Hyde Park, the sun growing more brilliant through the lifting fog banks.—By bus to Chancery Lane and Fleet Street with its newspaper offices, and on to the Temple, lawyers and law students abound in these parts.—Down Fleet Street to Ludgate Hill on which St. Paul's stands—St. Paul's, typically Renaissance,—said to be a replica of St. Peter's in Rome.—Inside the tombs of Wellington and Nelson. Whispering galleries and a fine view of the city from the dome if the day is clear.—We walk down Cheapside from the Cathedral, to the left is King Street and the Guildhall with its scars of the great fire of 1666, Don't miss the library and art rooms.—Down Cheapside again, to the Bank, the Royal Exchange and the Lord Mayor's mansion, and finally we reach the famous Tower of London.

"Say, that fellows face is familiar. Where have I seen his face before?—Why it's Pop Waidner."

"Hello, Pop, What are—?"

9.40, "Wake up, and stop readin' that Travel Guide, the Prof. just called on you."

9.50, (Editor's Note) "VASS YOU DARE, CHARLIE?"

Even though I do not claim to be an addict to the craze of buying or trying to buy "first editions", nevertheless I might say that to wander through a book shop, hunting for old tattered musty volumes on anything and everything, at times affords me no little pleasure and fascination.

Not so long ago, while on one of these adventures, I happened to come across a small dirty brown volume or rather pamphlet bearing no less auspicious a title than "Young's Great Book of Secrets." To look at the title would lead one to believe that the "Philosopher's Stone" or the key to the wonders and tricks of Houdini or Thurston had been found. But, alas, such was not the case. Upon closer investigation one discovered that within the covers of the "Priceless Wol-lum," the secrets to anything from a "cure for warts" to a recipe for the manufacture of axle grease, could be found.

Though the date of publication or copyright was missing, I judged that the book must have been published about 1876. In the front, a short preface by the publisher attempted to show the reason for setting the enclosed conglomeration of "hokum" to type. To add to this, the authors of the book claimed rather absurd and fabulous returns to those who were willing to risk their necks and reputations by using the "secrets" as a money making enterprise.

Among the more outstanding formulae was one which I feel that I must put down here.

To prevent Cattle, Fowls, etc., from getting Old

"If Cattle are occasionally fed a little of extract of the June berry, it will renew or extend the period of their lives. Use in connection with the vanilla bean, and the two will produce the most wonderful results. It will act on people the same as on the animal kingdom. New flax seed frequently given to cattle in small quantities will make them, whether young or old, or if as poor and thin as skeletons, to appear fat and healthy."

As one reads on further, the fact presents itself that the Pure Food and Drugs Act was not enacted until the turn of the century for if such was the case, no doubt, the publishers would have had to eliminate a large number of the formulae contained in the book.

FRENCH NATIONALISM DISCUSSED AT HISTORY ACADEMY LECTURE

SPEAKER LAUDS NAPOLEON

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 2) when he cries that all the work on railroads, canals and roads which must be done in France is done by the people for their "common country".

His nationalist labors lead to a cooperation by the people which built up the national economic power and supremacy of France. All the wars in which Napoleon engaged were fought in the name of Nationalism for the sake of enhancing the military reputation of France.

The lecturer in conclusion stated that because of the conflict between Napoleon and Bismarck, the nationalistic dispute and the abiding hatred over Alsace and Lorraine, Napoleon III may be said to be one of the causes of the Nationalistic World War.

For those interested in the present nationalistic tendencies of nations, there will be another lecture on January 16, by Maurice Egan, on the subject, "Georges Clemenceau and Later French Nationalism", which is a continuation of the present series of lectures.

Askew Billiard Champ

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 1) match between Eustace and Miraglia. The latter got off to a quick start and in a short time ran his score to twenty points, but here a scratch reduced his total to nineteen. Nothing daunted by the unfavorable score, which now

(Continued on Page 6, Col. 3)

DR. J. AYD SUCCUMBS TO YEAR'S ILLNESS

FATHER OF LOYOLA TEACHER

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 5) at the College of Physicians and Surgeons.

Active Catholic

Dr. Ayd's energies were not restricted merely to the conduction of his pharmacy, nor to the practicing of his profession. The influence of the Redemptorist was as long as it was strong in him. He was an active member of the St. Vincent de Paul Society and the Knights of Columbus. On him was bestowed the Fourth Degree and honor button of the K. of C., this mark of distinction being restricted to the older members of the organization.

Dr. Ayd's Catholic spirit urged him into the field of the Catholic League, of which he was not only an organizer, but also its examining physician for many years. Dr. Ayd maintained this active interest in religious matters, throughout his life and in all the multiple phases of his career. In the parish in which he lived, St. Andrews, he was honored with the position of president emeritus of the Holy Name Society.

The pharmacy Dr. Ayd had established over a half a century ago is now being conducted by one of his sons, Dr. George J. Ayd. Father Ayd said the Requiem Mass at St. Andrew's Church, on Saturday, January 7. Other sons of the deceased are, Dr. Frank J. Ayd, physician; Ignatius J. Ayd, a member of the Baltimore Police Department, and Charles J. Ayd, of the Commonwealth Bank.

PING-PONG TABLES BRING ZEST TO RECREATION ROOM

CHESS, CHECKERS ADDED

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 3) this forms a nucleus about which quite a number of students may be expected to gather.

Another addition was that of chess and checker sets. A dozen of these have been procured, together with tables suitable for play, and a movement is on foot to stage a tournament in the near future. A ping-pong tournament is also in the offing, and is expected to be productive of much interest.

There's a Freshman in the school who calls his girl Opium, because she's a dope.

*When I like something
I evermore like it!*

THEY'RE Milder—
THEY TASTE BETTER

—and I like CHESTERFIELD Cigarettes.

To me, they are mild—that is, they don't seem to be strong; and there is certainly no bite, so far as I can tell.

To me, they taste better and they have a pleasing aroma.

Every CHESTERFIELD that I get is well-filled, and I feel like I am getting my money's worth—that there is no short measure about it.

I like CHESTERFIELDS. They satisfy me.

Alumni Chatter

R. E. L.

Happy New Year, folks! Here it is January and we've still got a dollar—ah—er—just a minute. —65—75—80—? Just as we thought, gents, just as we thought! (Kindly refer to annual report of United R. R. for missing 20c).

"You can't keep a good man down", as the poet says, and we guess you are wondering what we are doing back at the old stand again. Well, accidents will happen and even a bad check will bounce, so here we are all set to ladle out the news to all you eager grads. Sisszzrr!! (siren effect) O.K., Loyola!

* * *

Congratulations, Bart

Our old friend, the Honorable Thomas Barton Harrington, '21, has broken into the headlines, we see, and has proven the big news event of the week—chosen Speaker of the Maryland House of Delegates, and all that. Congrats, Bart, and all the success in Maryland. This is a big boost for Loyola, and you'll have to forgive the boys if they strike up the old refrains of, "I Told You So," "I Knew Him When," and "I Went To College With Him." It's something we're all proud of, and we can't help advertising.

In fact, this Speaker job is even more important than we think at first glance. In our usual spirit of Service, we offer the following information: (somebody else told us), —the office of Speaker of the House is the third highest office in Maryland, ranked only by the Governor and the President of the Senate. If Governor Ritchie should get a Cabinet position, and President of the Senate Mitchell should be passed over on account of his age, "Our Bart" would stand a very good chance of governing the Free State. Of course, it's only a thought, but then, you never can tell.

* * *

Back To Nature

Believe it or not, but the Alumni held a real old-time, out-door, steak-over-the-fire picnic at Woodstock, Maryland, on Thursday, December 1. About twelve old grads packed their knapsacks, checked their compasses, hired a guide and headed for the wide open spaces. Reports have it that nobody got lost and that a good time was had by all. Among the Alumni at the Woodstock Seminary who helped make the affair a success are: Messrs. John J. and Arthur A. Coniff, both of the class of '22; Edward A. Kerr, '22; Roger J. Blankford, '22; Charles H. Rohleder, '21; and Charles L. Coolahan, '21—all of whom are studying Theology.

$5000

In case you are interested in mere statistics, the Alumni Endowment Fund of $5000 is made up of life insurances taken out on ten younger members of the Alumni, payable to the College after twenty years. The Association will pay the premium on these insurances every other year. The premium for the alternate years will be paid by individual subscription among the Alumni. We almost forgot,—if any or all of the above aforementioned ten members should die before the expiration of twenty years the money goes to the College.

* * *

Catholic Action

Mr. J. Preston McNeal, '98, a new member of the Catholic Evidence Guild, spoke over Station WCBM a few weeks ago on the subject, "How Can You Find Christ's Church in The World Today?"

The Catholic Evidence Guild features a broadcast program over this station every Monday night during which a number of former Loyola men have spoken.

* * *

Condolences

Within the past two months, death has taken a heavy toll among our Alumni and members of their families. Four Loyola men have gone to their eternal reward, while others have lost a mother, father, wife or sister.

The wife of Edward K. Hanlon, '09, the former Miss Rachel Riddler, died on Saturday, December 31, in New York. She is survived by her husband and four children, two boys and two girls.

Only a short time before the death of his wife, Mr. Hanlon suffered the loss of his mother, Mrs. Ellen Jane Hanlon, wife of Edward Hanlon, President of the Baltimore Park Board and mother of Lieutenant Joseph T. Hanlon, '12, who was killed in the World War.

Mr. Hanlon, a New York lawyer, received his LL.B. degree from the Harvard University Law School in 1912, and married Miss Ridder at the Blessed Sacrament Church in New York in 1917. We extend him our sincerest condolences on her death.

Alumni members who died recently are: Edward A. McLaughlin, '71; Daniel J. Coyne, '98, who died on November 19; John A. Shea, '04; and William Howard Gahan, '05.

We wish to extend our condolences also to Father Ayd, ex '03, on the death of his father, and to Father Walter Cunningham, S.J., ex '06, on the death of his sister.

MR. WILLIAM H. GAHAN, '05 RETIRED ATTORNEY DIES JAN. 7 FROM ATTACK OF PNEUMONIA

JOHNS HOPKINS GRADUATE

Rev. Thomas J. McKew Says
Requiem Mass At Saints
Philip and James

Mr. William Howard Gahan, '05, a retired attorney, died on Saturday, January 7 from an attack of pneumonia, at his home, 2626 N. Charles street.

After receiving his Bachelor of Arts degree from Loyola, Mr. Gahan, the son of the late William H. Gahan, entered the Johns Hopkins University where he gained his Master's degree in 1908, receiving his Bachelor of Law's degree from the University of Maryland in the same year.

Soon after this he became associated with the law firm of Willis and Homer, but later resigned to enter the army in which he served as a first lieutenant during the World War.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Mary M. Daily Gahan, and a sister, Mrs. Isaac S. George, wife of Mr. George, Loyola alumnus of 1901.

Funeral services were held at SS. Philip and James' Church on Tuesday, January 10, the Requiem Mass being said by the Rev. Thomas J. McKew, ex '15, assistant pastor. Burial was in the new Cathedral Cemetery.

Mr. Edward McLaughlin Dies In Native New England State

Former Loyola Student Was Well Known For Practice
In Bay State Courts

Mr. Edward A. McLaughlin, Loyola alumnus of '71, and the first student to be graduated from Boston College, died some time ago at the home of his brother in Roxbury, Massachusetts. He is survived by three sons.

Born in Boston, Mr. McLaughlin attended the public schools there, and later graduated from Boston College after which he received a degree from Loyola in 1871. From this date until 1874 he taught Latin and Greek at Loyola, and from 1875-76 held the same position at Seton Hall College in New Jersey.

He was later admitted to the Bar and practiced law in Boston, becoming very well known for his practice in the probate courts. He was for twenty-five years clerk of the House of Representatives in Massachusetts and was a member of the Metropolitan water and sewerage board.

Mr. McLaughlin was interested in the affairs of Boston College for many years and was instrumental in obtaining the present Chestnut Hill site. He was also trustee and legal adviser to the institution.

Did You Know That - - -

J. W. F.

Fr. Joseph J. Ayd, S. J., '03, present professor of Sociology and Economics at Evergreen, has been a member of the Faculties of Georgetown University and St. Joseph's College, and that he was appointed Dean of studies at Loyola in 1927, to succeed Fr. Henri Weisel, S. J.?

* * *

The first Student Council at Evergreen was formed in February of 1927?

* * *

The Loyola Dramatic Society was founded in 1865, and produced one play yearly until the separation of the College from the High School in 1924, and that it was reformed in 1928 at Evergreen?

* * *

Adolph M. Wasilifsky, '28, was proclaimed "Oratorical Champion of the State of Maryland" in that same year? Adolph journeyed to Westminster to gain the honor, where he competed with representatives of Maryland, Johns Hopkins, and Western Maryland.

SISTER OF FATHER CUNNINGHAM EXPIRES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

BURIAL IN NEW CATHEDRAL

Miss Alice L. Cunningham, sister of the Rev. Walter F. X. Cunningham, S.J., Loyola alumnus of '06, and President of Canisius High School, Buffalo, died on December 16 after a long illness.

Miss Cunningham, a graduate of Saint Joseph's School for Nurses, joined the Hospital Corps during the World War and went overseas with the Maryland Unit, Base Hospital, No. 42. She spent eight months in the service after which she became associated with the Health Department in Baltimore.

Funeral services were held at St. Ignatius Church where Father Cunningham sang the Solemn High Mass assisted by Father Thomas J. Love, S.J., as deacon, and Father James A. Conroy, S.J., as subdeacon. Father Ferdinand C. Wheeler, S.J., ex '05, President of Loyola High School, was Master of Ceremonies.

Among those present in the sanctuary were the Very Rev. Henri J. Wiesel, S.J., and the Rev. Joseph M. Marique, S.J.

Besides her brother, Father Walter Cunningham, Miss Cunningham is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Cunningham; another brother, the Rev. Edward J. Cunningham, S. J., of Holy Cross, Alaska; and by two sisters, the Misses Catherine A. and Margaretta T. Cunningham.

Interment took place in the New Cathedral Cemetery.

James J. Lindsay, Jr., '17, served in the House of Delegates?

* * *

William J. Sweeney, '22, was sent from St. Mary's Seminary to Rome to finish his studies for the priesthood?

* * *

Mr. George C. Jenkins, LL. D., '23, distinguished benefactor and alumnus, was elevated to the ranks of the Knights of St. Gregory by his Holiness, Pope Pius XI?

* * *

A poem written by Hugh Allen Meade, '29, for the GREYHOUND, gained foreign recognition, being published in the Irish Weekly Independent, a leading Dublin publication?

* * *

"Big Ed" Healy, 1929 football captain was awarded a beautiful gold football by the Evening Sun, which declared that Ed's work in football the previous season was worthy of All-State honors?

MR. JOHN A. SHEA '04 EXPIRES SUDDENLY IN WASHINGTON, D. C.

MASS SAID AT ST. PETERS

Mr. John A. Shea, Loyola alumnus of '04, died suddenly at the Gallinger Hospital, Washington, D. C., on Saturday, December 31, following an attack of pneumonia. Burial took place in the New Cathedral Cemetery on Wednesday, January 4, after a Requiem Mass at St. Peter's Church, Baltimore. Members of the staff of the Washington Times acted as pallbearers.

Mr. Shea, a member of the editorial staff of the Times, was formerly a Baltimore newspaper man, beginning his journalistic career on the Baltimore American and joining the reportorial staff of the Evening Sun in 1910. He went to Annapolis as a correspondent of the Sunpapers in 1926 and joined the Washington Times staff four years later. He was assigned to the Capitol staff of the Times at the beginning of the present session of Congress.

Mr. Shea, a son of the late John A. and Florence L. Shea, was born and spent most of his life in Baltimore. Besides being an alumnus of Loyola, Mr. Shea graduated from Calvert Hall and studied for several years at Mt. St. Mary's Seminary.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Marie A. Shea, and a daughter, Peggy, 10 years old; a sister, Mrs. Mary C. Sheppard; a niece, Mrs. Agnes DeHoff; and an aunt, Mrs. Margaret Schanze.

Greyhounds Humble Mount In Impressive Basketball Victory

Loyola Five Registers Second College League Win In 46-35 Game

The pace-setting Loyola Greyhounds cut another deep notch in their claim for the State basketball championship by handing the Mt. St. Mary's quint a startling 46-35 setback. The margin of victory came as a surprise to the Free State fans, for the Mountaineers were rated as about the strongest team in the league. This handy win over Art Malloy's boys serves notice on the rest of the teams in the league that Loyola is the outfit to beat to cop the crown.

Carlin Leads Attack

Vince Carlin led the Greyhound attack with six field goals and three out of four fouls for a total of 15 points. Chick Chanowski was right behind him with 14 counters, but the Mountaineer lacked the support that Vince received from the rest of the team. The Loyola five clicked perfectly at times, but again gave indication that they are inclined to ease up when they gain a slight lead. As soon as the opposition pressed a little the Greyhounds settled down and took the play in their own hands.

The game between the old rivals was bitterly fought throughout, and the scrappy spirit of the Mounts even when they were so outclassed showed that they will give Loyola plenty of trouble in the return contest.

Loyola Runs up Lead

Frank Tanneyhill broke the ice with a neat shot from about at the foul line after two or three minutes of play. Lunak, Carlin, Tanneyhill and Bender tallied for Loyola, but Mt. St. Mary's matched them point for point until near the end of the half when the Greyhounds pulled away to a seven point lead. Carlin's sharpshooting in the first period, which garnered 11 points for his team, was almost equalled by the clever Chanowski who tallied four goals and a foul shot. However, the score stood at 22-15 in favor of the home team when the half ended.

Mount Stages Rally

Mt. St. Mary's brought the fans to their feet as they gradually crept up on the seemingly demoralized Greyhounds until they were but one point behind with three quarters of the game gone. The Loyola club braced and Tanneyhill quickly sank two perfect shots. Carlin, Beltz and Bender followed with a field goal apiece, and the Greyhounds were once again off to a safe lead which they

Waidner Captain Of '33 Team All State Selection In '32

Pop Waidner has been rewarded by his team-mates for his sensational playing at the right tackle post on the Greyhound football team last fall with the captaincy of next year's eleven. The new leader were elected by the letter men shortly before the Christmas holidays began, too late for notice in the last edition of the Greyhound.

Defensive Star

During the past season George was the outstanding lineman on the Loyola team. Working with an unusually weak Greyhound outfit, he, along with Al Cullen, earned his berth on the All-Maryland eleven by sheer brilliance of play. Even against teams like Boston College, Villanova and Catholic University who presented such tackle stars as Phil Couhig, Dick Hickey and Phil Goross, Pop stood out as a defensive player and outshone all of those highly touted players.

Capable Leader

The 1933 captain is the inspirational type of leader. His spirited playing conveys much of his enthusiasm to his mates, and his temperament is one that will serve to keep the team steady and free from tension.

Pop began his football at Loyola High School where he played both tackle and end. The former, however, has always been his favorite position and the one in which he best performed. He has held a tackle post on the Greyhound teams for the past three years, and has been active in student activities. He devotes most of his time to directing the affairs of the Junior class, and also indulges in Campus Clipping. The good old game of checkers claims much of his attention during the school year. And on vacation George does his bit toward drawing trade to the Meadowbrook Swimming Pool by draping his form over a life guard chair.

easily held until the final whistle blew.

Chief Bender again gave an exhibition of flawless guard play in his performance against the Mount. His unruffled calm, even in the most heated moments of the hectic game, played an important part in the impressive Loyola victory. Besides holding the Mountaineer forwards in check, Chief rang up eight counters for the Greyhounds.

Wednesday night's game showed that Bob Beltz' lack of stature will prove to be a serious handicap to him. His aggressiveness will stand him in good stead, however, and his scrappy performance against the towering Mounts earned him a hearty round of applause from the stands.

Fast Play Features Opening Game With Green Terrors

'Hounds Beat W. Md. 43-32 Carlin, Beltz, Bender Poison To Visitors

Loyola College began its quest of the Free State basketball championship Saturday night with a decisive 43-32 victory over Western Maryland in the first game of the newly formed league. The Terrors enjoyed a 5-0 lead for the first four or five minutes of the game, but the Evergreen sharpshooters then got the range of the hoop and the outcome was never in doubt for the rest of the contest.

Loyola Attack Functions

The Greyhounds displayed a sporadic attack, working together perfectly at times, and then performing rather raggedly in spots. This was due to the lack of a need for constant pressure. A big factor in the exhibition of teamwork was Captain Vince Carlin, who, along with Chief Bender, fed the ball to mates under the basket for numerous counters.

Vince also used his deadly eye for the basket to good advantage, sharing the scoring honors with Bob Beltz at 10 points each. The new captain played the same aggressive game that made him the favorite of Loyola fans in the past two years.

Beltz Performs Well

Willie Bender outclassed the field in all-around play. He is a polished player, and the Terrors had no art to combat his skill.

From all appearances, Bob Beltz will be the sensation of the Greyhound season. He literally ran rings around the Westminster stalwarts, and, although they failed to offer as clever opposition as he is sure to meet in future games, he proved his ability under fire. When he arrived at Loyola last year Bob was hailed as a second Utz Twardowicz, and he is now off to a good start to fill that difficult assignment before he leaves Evergreen. Possessed of an accurate eye, he shoots quickly and from any angle. His speed and agility serve him especially well in getting loose to cut under the basket.

LOYOLA

	G.	F.	T.
Carlin, f.	4	2-3	10
Beltz, f.	4	2-3	10
Rehkopf, f.	0	1-1	1
Tanneyhill, c.	2	2-4	6
Colvin, c., g.	2	3-5	7
Lunak, g.	2	0-0	4
Bender, g.	2	1-5	5
	16	11-17	43

Carlin And Bender Begin Last Season On Greyhound Cage Team

Vince Carlin is beginning his last year of collegiate basketball competition in a Green and Gray uniform as captain of the squad. This is his fourth year in the cage game, and Vince is in better form than ever before. Last year he was second only to the brilliant Elliot Loughlin of the Navy for individual scoring honors in the state. This year there is less likelihood of Carlin snaring the scoring prize for he is passing and working with his team more than before. However, that promises more success for the Greyhound quintet, which is the important thing in Captain Carlin's mind.

Vince's big ambition this year is to lead his 'Hounds to the championship of the Maryland Basketball League. He should be able to turn the trick with the help of Bender, Tanneyhill, Lunak and Beltz. The latter three are Sophomores, but all saw enough action last year to smooth out any rough spots in their play.

Willie "Chief" Bender is the only other senior on the court squad this year. He is playing the same smart, steady game that has made his name synonymous with good basketball in the past three seasons. Last year he pulled many a game out of the fire with his clever guarding and sudden spurts up the floor to ring up two-pointers, while his coolness kept the freshmen members of the team steady and calm. All the green players of last year have benefited by his tips and example and are ready for a stiff campaign this winter. Although not among the leaders in scoring, Chief proved his ability in this de-

WESTERN MD.

	G.	F.	T.
Mergo, f.	2	2-2	6
Murray, f.	3	0-1	6
Willis, f.	1	1-1	3
Ferguson, f.	0	2-6	2
Ryscavage, c.	0	2-3	2
Sadusky, g.	2	0-1	4
Hurley, g.	1	2-3	4
Mahoney, g.	1	0-0	2
Shepherd, g.	1	1-2	3
	11	10-19	32

PHONE: UNIVERSITY 3500
GEO. J. STORCK & SON
LUMBER
Sash, Doors, Blinds, Flooring, Finishing, etc.
2406-18 GREENMOUNT AVENUE

Boxers Train For Future Bouts Veterans Back In Squared Ring

The 1933 crop of Loyola cauliflower artists began training on Monday, January 9, for their latest essay into intercollegiate boxing circles. Ed Duffy, former Greyhound football star, will again direct the husky pugilists in the art of assault and battery.

From last year's squad Ed has a handful of willing workers, among whom are Wright, Farley, Plotczyk and Jasaitis. Biggs and Rehkopf, who fought last year, are busy with the basketball squad, and the court game leaves them no time for boxing.

Gordon and Cianos, both Freshmen, seem to be the most promising candidates among the new-comers. These two have earned enviable records for themselves in the amateur rings around Baltimore. Both of these scrappy boys are small, Gordon scaling about 135 pounds, and Cianos tipping the beam at about 120 pounds.

The boxing team has two bouts booked so far for this season, the first with Western Maryland and the other with the powerful Catholic University squad.

Both set-tos will take place at night in the Evergreen gym.

partment last year, while Vince Carlin was on the sick list, by garnering high point honors in several games.

With Bender and Carlin leading the way, the Greyhounds are off to a head start on the rest of the teams in the Maryland Basketball League.

You're coming to
AMOCO-GAS
The American Oil Company
AMOCO MOTOR OIL

THE EMERSON HOTEL
PRIVATE ROOMS
AND BANQUET HALLS
for all occasions with
Sunday Dancing

HART SCHAFFNER & MARX SUITS
Exclusive at the Hub in Baltimore
The Hub
"...OF CHARLES STREET"

Year Book Activity Under Way
With Assignments Distributed

Art Work To Be Entrusted
To Capable Management
Of Zukowski, Kelly

The year book is yet in its infant stage of development and the real work has not yet begun, all efforts so far being concentrated in preparation of its various departments.

Those to whom assignments have been given are working toward the completion and re-shaping of their topics so that they may be ready for the editor's inspection when called for. These topics include student biographies, class histories, sport write-ups, and numerous other smaller articles. The various organizations of the College are also included in the assignments. The photographer is very busy in securing the individual photos of the seniors, those of the class officers and other picture cuts.

Mr. Kelly and Mr. Zukowski have offered to do the drawings for the 1933 Green and Gray. Their work is of a highly creditable character, and the Year Book will be benefited by their work. The senior class are expending their utmost efforts to make the book a greater success than any that has ever been published.

Fordham Debate Feb. 17

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 4) the orators chosen to carry the colors of the college. Messrs. Power and May were chosen as alternates.

Fordham was last met by Loyola in a debate three years ago by a Green and Gray team composed entirely of Freshman. This debate was won by Fordham which has a reputation for fine debating teams.

Mr. Henneberry is spending much time and effort with the Bellarmine Society, and he is quite anxious to see the schedule of intercollegiate debates at Loyola assume something of College importance.

It is hoped that with such a start debating at Loyola will continue in importance and will soon take its place among the foremost in forensic circles.

Sophs Discuss League

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 5) the League, stating that the United States would be only a minor power in its midst, and subjected to the dictates of Europe. Messrs. Colvin and Botta presented clearer arguments and kept the audience more interested. As pointed out by the critic, the main fault of the debaters was lack of contact between speaker and audience.

It is claimed that 51 per cent of the Princeton athletes are on the honor roll.

DATE DECIDED FOR ELECTION
OF YEAR'S SODALITY OFFICERS

SANCTUARY HEADS CHOSEN

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 4) all classes will be represented on the Official Board. The Prefect will be a member of Senior Year, the Assistant-prefect, a representative of Junior, the Second assistant, a Sophomore, and a Third assistant, a Sodalist from Freshman year.

Nominations for the various officers will be recognized from any member regardless of his class, and the nominees in turn will be voted upon by the entire Sodality.

Sanctuary Society Elects

Besides these officials, four class representatives will also be chosen; these are to be elected merely by their respective class members.

At a recent meeting of the Sanctuary Society, the 48 members of which, have as their duty, the assisting at various devotions in the Chapel, officers for the present term were elected.

The voting, carried out in the same manner as the officers of the Sodality are to be chosen, resulted in the election of Craig Storck as Master of Ceremonies, Rollins Hanlon as Junior Assistant, Raymond Cunningham as Sophomore Assistant, and Eugene Jendrek as Freshman Assistant.

EPIPHANY EXPLAINED
BY FATHER GILLIS

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 2) ation of Christ, they represented us, said Father Gillis, and our adoration must be like theirs—a personal adoration. We must either worship the true God or become idolaters and self-worshippers.

When confronted with a mystery of religion, what am I to do, continued the speaker. There is only one answer. We must sacrifice our finite intellects and bow in adoration. "It is the only sane and rational thing for me to do," said Father Gillis in conclusion.

Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament by Father Risacher concluded the devotions.

Askew Billiard Champ

(Continued from Page 3, Col. 2) stood at nineteen to six, Eustace managed to deadlock the count by a series of small clusters, during which time Miraglia added but two points to his score. The play was tense for a while, with Miraglia finally sinking an easy shot to win twenty five to twenty three.

Play Unsteady

Askew was Miraglia's next opponent and the former won handily, as Hanlon also earned a right to the finals by a comfortable margin of victory

T. B. HARRINGTON
NEW HOUSE SPEAKER

LOYOLA ALUMNUS 1921

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 3) part in the balloting and achieved a sweeping victory over Mr. Francis A. Michel, former Speaker of the House, who cast his vote in favor of Mr. Harrington to make the selection unanimous.

Among those who backed the candidacy of Mr. Harrington were George N. Lewis, one of the leaders of the Third District; Charles N. Whiteford and Robert B. Ennis, President of the Board of Supervisors of Elections. It was understood also that the selection of Mr. Harrington had at least the tacit approval of Mayor Jackson.

New To Politics

His selection as Speaker came after only two years of active politics,—his election to the House in 1931, being his first political venture, although he had previously taken part in some minor campaigns in the Third district.

After graduating from Loyola, Mr. Harrington took up the study of law at the University of Maryland from which he received his degree in 1924.

over Di Steffano. In the final match Askew gained an early lead and was never headed. Although not without thrills,

Fr. O'Hara Reorganizes
Loyola Dramatic Guild

"Merton Of The Movies"
To Be Initial Production

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 1) veted role of Merton Gill, a part for which he is well-fitted. The very difficult part of The Montague Girl was placed on the shoulders of Mr. John Bauernschub. Messrs Gibson, Donovan, and Lewis have the parts of Jeff Baird, Sigmond Rosenblatt, and Weller, respectively. Messrs Rozea, Gibson and Donovan are not novices in the histrionic art since they all were in the cast which presented "Treasure Island" at Loyola High School a few years ago. Other members of the cast are; Duggan, J. Hanlon, Kane, Coon, Kimmel, May and Dill.

The entire cast was busy during the Christmas vacation in learning their lines and in holding preliminary rehearsals. According to Fr. O'Hara, their progress has been passing fair. The selection of a play-house has not as yet been made, but it is had on good authority that it will most likely be held in some downtown theatre during the latter part of February.

the play was not consistent, and shots of individual brilliancy rather than long runs, characterized the contest.

Schedule of Semester Examinations

MONDAY, JANUARY 23, 1933
A. M.
9:30-11:30	Senior	Psychology	103	Lib. Fr. Gillis
	Junior	Philosophy	203	Lib. Fr. Geoghan
			201	Lib. Mr. Walsh
	Sophomore	English	204	Lib. Fr. Reynolds
			200	Lib. Mr. Flood
	Freshman	English	104	Lib. Mr. Winters
			101	Lib. Mr. Doehler
P. M.
12:40	Senior
	Junior	English	103	Lib. Mr. Henneberry
		Economics	203	Lib. Fr. Ayd
TUESDAY, JANUARY 24, 1933
A. M.
9:30-11:30	Senior
	Junior
	Sophomore	Qual. Chem	210	Sc. Fr. Schmitt
			207	Sc. Mr. Flood
	Senior
	Junior
	Sophomore	Mod. History	201	Lib. Mr. Doehler
			103	Lib. Mr. Walsh
	Sophomore	Latin In. Ex.	204	Lib. Mr. Winters
	Freshman	French 1	104	Lib. Mr. Scrimger
		French 11	101	Lib. Mr. Henneberry
		Spanish
		German	203	Lib. Fr. Hacker
WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 25, 1933
A. M.
9:30-11:30	Senior
	Junior
	Sophomore	Biology I-II	306	Sc. Fr. Frisch
	Senior
	Junior	Math	103	Lib. Dr. Harry
	Freshman	Latin In. Ex.	104	Lib. Mr. Henneberry
P. M.
12:40	Senior
	Junior	Sociology	103	Lib. Fr. Ayd
	Sophomore	Apologetics	201	Lib. Fr. Risacher
			200	Lib. Mr. Flood

Freshman.... Apologetics...		101	Lib.	Fr. Cerrute
		104	Lib.	Mr. Winters
THURSDAY, JANUARY 26, 1933
A. M.
9:30-11:30....	Senior.....	Orals.....	103	Lib. PP. O'Hara and Geoghan
			203	Lib. PP. Ayd and Gillis
	Jr. A.B.-Ph.B..	Physics.....	210	Sc. Mr. Walsh
	Jr. B.S.....	Physics.....	207	Sc. Fr. Love
	Sophomore....	History I....	201	Lib. Mr. Doehler
	Freshman....	History I....	201	Lib. Mr. Doehler
FRIDAY, JANUARY 27, 1933
A. M.
9:30-11:30....	Senior.....	Phy. Chem....	210	Sc. Mr. Kleff
	Junior.....	Orals.....	103	Lib. PP. O'Hara and Geoghan
			203	Lib. PP. Ayd and Gillis
	Sophomore....
	Freshman....	Class. Lit....	200	Lib. Fr. Risacher
	Soph., B.S....
	Freshman....	Physics.....	210	Sc. Mr. Walsh
	Sophomore....	Greek.....	202	Lib. Fr. Hacker
	Freshman....	Greek.....	204	Lib. Mr. Henneberry
MONDAY, JANUARY 30, 1933
A. M.
9:30-11:30....	Senior.....	Ethics.....	101	Lib. Fr. O'Hara
	Junior.....	Apologetics...	201	Lib. Fr. Gillis
	Sophomore....	Math.....	103	Lib. Fr. Love
			204	Lib. Mr. Egerton
	Freshman....	Math.....	203	Lib. Mr. Walsh
			104	Lib. Mr. Henneberry
			200	Lib. Mr. Winters
TUESDAY, JANUARY 31, 1933
A. M.
9:30-11:30....	Senior.....	Apologetics...	101	Lib. Fr. Ayd
	Sophomore....	Chemistry....	210	Sc. Mr. Kleff
	Freshman....	Chemistry....	207	Sc. Mr. Flood